

Killing this person is not necessary. He is locked up behind bars. You have the power to stop this killing. You cannot wash your hands of this matter. Either you let him live, or you kill him. Killing him serves no purpose except vengeance. You know in your heart this is wrong. Let him live and explain to the world why. A human life is in your hands.

H. Goodman